Benefits of continued use of CT Scanning

- Continued use of CT will maintain the initial accuracy increases (although with no further significant increase in the EBV accuracies in subsequent years)
- Higher accuracies will be lost over time if CT stops
- CT scanning produces breeding animals who’s progeny have EBV values with accuracies that would otherwise take one crop of performance recorded (ultrasound and weights) progeny to achieve.
- The use of CT scanning results in improved genetic progress if selection decisions are based on EBVs

Please contact us to discuss your requirements: SRUC-BioSS CT Unit, Tel: 0131-535-3250 Email: ctunit@sruc.ac.uk